

ANGELA BUNKER

Angela Bunker has a passion for inspiring education and has been involved in the educating process for nearly 27 years. She's educated her own children, has created and directed a private school, and has served in various capacities at Merit Preparatory Academy for more than 11 years. Angela has a degree in psychology with an emphasis in child development from Southern Utah University. She's married to her best friend from high school. Together they've built a life they love with amazing children, lots of laughter, and crazy adventures. Eight of her children have graduated from Merit Academy thus far, with more to follow!
